

 Neighbor to Neighbor presents:

RESTORATIVE JUSTICE FACILITATION TRAINING

WHAT IS RJ?

Restorative Justice (RJ) is a growing movement to respond constructively to crime and other harms. It takes seriously the needs of victims and their right to have a strong voice in how the harm is repaired. At the same time, it guides people who have committed harms to take a full and active form of accountability. Neighbor to Neighbor conducts RJ processes for some crimes throughout the Mid-Valley, as well as community situations. We rely on trained volunteers to run these cases. This is a powerful way to give to your community, and a helpful skill set for anyone.

WHO IS THIS TRAINING FOR?

This training is essential for:

- ⇒ Potential RJ volunteers,
- ⇒ Educators,
- ⇒ Social workers,
- ⇒ Justice system professionals,
- ⇒ Or anyone else who wants to learn dialogue skills to better promote healing, accountability and repair.

Participants can expect an engaging blend of small-group, large-group, and presentation times, along with role plays for experiential learning.

TRAINER: Scott Smith

Our lead trainer, Scott Smith, a former educator, is currently Director of Restorative Justice at Neighbor to Neighbor.

"If crime harms, justice should heal."
